Since publication, it has been brought to the attention of the Editorial Office of Chinese Physics B that parts of this paper showed strong similarities to the following article (including one equation, some analyses, the motivation and the conclusion) without citation: "Detection of Finger Interruptions in Silicon Solar Cells Using Line Scan Photoluminescence Imaging," IEEE Journal of Photovoltaics, 2017, vol. 7, No. 6, pp. 1496–1502.

Following our investigation, this article has been retracted by the Editorial Office of Chinese Physics B.
